What Makes 3DTi Different?

In general, training programs focus on providing software knowledge but actual learning happens on-the-job through trial and error. This is certainly not the quickest and most efficient way to learn.

To overcome this challenge, 3DTi, in collaboration with our partner production company 3DMIRAGE, has designed a client-focused online training program.

The training simulates a professional work environment where participants complete four in-demand projects within the given deadlines, just like working with actual clients.

Client-Focused Online Platform

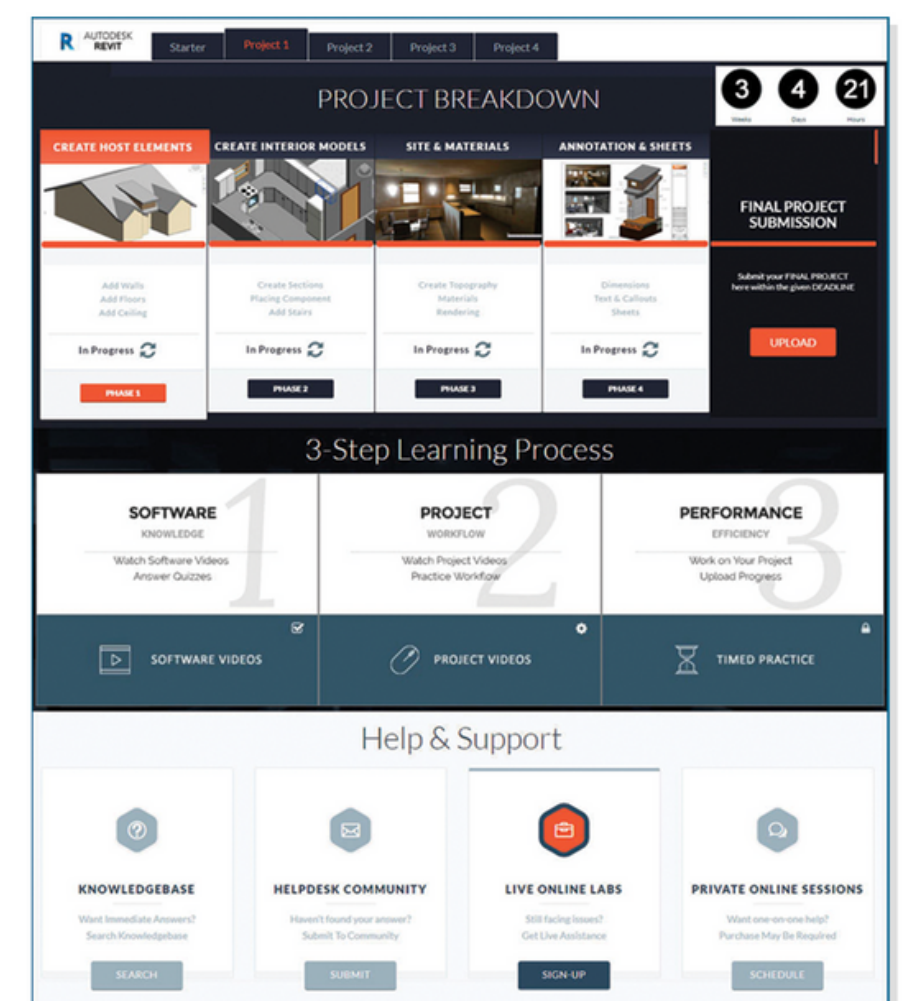

The 3DTi program is self-paced and conducted entirely online using our interactive training platform combined with help & support options that include: live-online labs with screen-sharing and private one-on-one sessions from industry experts.

Graduates from the program receive a certificate, and create a professional portfolio with 4 in-demand projects. 3DTi Alumni are also provided with complimentary guidance on their first client project by 3DMIRAGE.
